FORMERLY LIVED IN BARRE.

James B. Rogers Died at His Home on East Montpelier Road.

James B. Rogers passed away at his home on the East Montpelier road Tuesday morning, following a few weeks' illness, which confined him to his bed, although he had been in failing health for the past three years.

Mr. Rogers was born in Canada 49 years ago, coming to Walden with his parents when a child. When a young man he learned the granitecutters' trade and for 30 years he had worked in Barre, until last fall, when he gave it up on account of his health.

In 1894 he married Miss Nancy Finley of Cabot, who, with seven children, survives him. The names of the children are: Roy, Harold, Madeline, Nancy, Grace, John and Avis. His aged parents, who reside in Cabot, also survive.

The funeral will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in the family lot at East Montpelier.

BIG FOOD DEMONSTRATION.

Miss Carrigan Talked to More Than 400 Women in Barre.

Miss Cecelia H. Carrigan of the Vermont extension service gave a wheatless food demonstration at the Spaulding assembly hall yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the woman's auxiliary to the food administration, addressing more than 400 women who showed great interest in her talk, both by close attention and by addressing many inquiries later on. This is the first of a series of food demonstrations planned by the local organization.

Miss Carrigan's demonstration yesterday was with oatmeal bread, sponge cake, custard pie and buckwheat spice cake, all of which products turned out to be fine. She cooked the food on a three-burner oil stove which was generously loaned by C. W. Averill & Co. The value of the demonstration was greatly enhanced by the fact that the city had been covered by representatives of the woman's auxiliary who had distributed copies of tried wheatless recipe leaflets in approximately 1,800 families.

During the demonstration Miss Carrigan kindly consented to answer the queries of the women, thus throwing additional light on the problems which have come to the women while trying to help the government by conserving wheat. She also distributed leaflets on 100 per cent wheatless recipes and other literature relating to food conservation in general.

The woman's auxiliary of Barre is compiling another recipe leaflet along other lines and the same will be distributed later on, to be followed by another demonstration, it is expected.

The Barre Gas Co., which recently quit the office long occupied by the company in the Bolster building in Depot square, is occupying a part of the office in the Gordon building recently used as a military store, the transfer having been made yesterday.

Owing to the fact that there is no yarn on hand, that the July quota has not arrived and that the sewing for the June quota has been completed, the work rooms of the Red Cross at the Church street school building will be closed until further notice. The public will be notified through The Times as soon as the July quota and materials are received.

Barre granite manufacturers are making arrangements to send a large delegation to Chicago next month for the annual convention of the National Retail Monumental Dealers' association. In pursuance of a policy adopted last year, the local association will not attempt to burden the railroads with a large number of monuments to be used for exhibition purposes.

James S. Bennett of Pearl street has returned home from Burlington, where he was one of the soloists at the war camp community service Sunday evening. On the following evening he sang in the Strong theatre. An evening contemporary of Burlington mentions his appearance as follows: "James S. Bennett sang at the concert at the Strong last night and was applauded between the verses and was obliged to give an encore after he rendered the song, 'God Be with Our Boys To-night.' Colonel Mimms made a fitting introductory just before the song."

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gilbert of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smith of Cambridge, Mass., C. H. Carrigan and H. J. Royal of Burlington, E. C. Hatch, W. H. Pelton and G. A. Osha of Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Phil A. Sturges and Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Allen of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hargen of Worcester, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eckerson of Mechanicville, N. Y., and John M. L. Touse of New York City. The guests of the Bristol, A. A. Perry of Baltimore, Md., Antoine LaPorte of Hoosick Falls, N. Y., Charles Bizzozzo of Nashua, N. H., Thomas Vaughan of New York and W. H. Fowler of Albany.

Rev. G. Leon Wells, pastor of the Methodist church in Glover, arrived in the city last evening for a brief visit with his father, Edward G. Wells, of East street. This afternoon the young clergyman left for Springfield, Mass., where he is to take a special course of three weeks in the Y. M. C. A. training college before sailing overseas for Y. M. C. A. service with the American expeditionary forces in France. Mr. Wells is a former resident of Barre and many friends will applaud him in his decision to offer his services over there. He is a graduate of Montpelier seminary and while pursuing his course there he interested himself in military matters. As a member of H. company of the 1st Vermont regiment, he submitted to military discipline while studying and also served as captain of the seminary battalion. During his absence Mrs. Wells and their son are to remain with relatives in Barnard. Another son of Mr. Wells, Mr. Vernon Wells, of the coast artillery, is believed to be on his way to France.

Yesterday's Boston Herald tells the interesting story of three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Hoernle of Rochester, Mass., who are to be joining shortly in the navy. All five boys have been prominent in athletics. The Herald has the following to say of Coach C. L. Hoernle: "The oldest is Charles, 27. He was prominent in baseball, football and basketball. He was one of the best catchers ever developed in the Greater Boston schools. After getting through Dorchester he went to Mercersburg academy, and later was in the Western and Connecticut leagues. For the past few years he has been athletic director at Goddard seminary, Barre, Vt., where Lawton Witt and other high-class baseball players were developed by him. He is now stationed at Hingham naval station."

Requiem mass was celebrated by the parish priest, Rev. Fr. Joseph Turcot, who was assisted by Rev. Fr. P. M. McKenna, pastor of St. Monica's church in this city. The bearers were: John Healy, Alderman J. A. Healy, Thomas Healy, Arthur Healy, Matt. J. Healy, Matt. F. Healy. There were many floral tributes. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery on Beckley street.

Do You "Scrub" Your Teeth or Clean Them?

Sand soap or pumice stone might be good to scrub your teeth. Undoubtedly your teeth would be clean, but modern teeth cleanliness comprises strict attention to sanitary benefits also, and the best preparation to use to not only scrub the teeth but to clean them and know that they are clean to the point of healthfulness, is PEREDIXO TOOTH PASTE, 25c the tube. Not druggy or perfumey in taste, but a real pleasure to use.
